PLAN 2 MORE YEARS OF WAR TO DEFEAT HITLER'S ARMIES

Six-Point Program is Outlined As Part of Anglo-American Plan

PLANS AGREED UPON

Program is Result of Roosevelt-Churchill Conference at Sea, It is Stated

By Kingsbury Smith
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Aug. 20.—A six-point program envisaging at least two more years of war forms the basis of the Anglo-American plan of strategy to defeat Nazi Germany, responsible official quarters indicated today.

The six-point program, which represents, in effect, the war plans agreed upon by President Roosevelt and British Prime Minister Winston Churchill in their historic sea conference, is said to be along the following lines:

- 1—Encourage Russia by all practical means to hold out against the German military onslaught this winter, and stock up the Soviets with war supplies for a spring campaign to keep Adolf Hitler engaged in a major war on the eastern front next year;

- 2—Continue aid to China and keep Japan isolated in the Far East and in a constant state of warning over encirclement and the danger of a major clash with the United States, Great Britain, and Russia if she attacks any one of the latter, or directly menaces their vital interests;

- 3—Strongly reinforce the British in the Mediterranean area with increased American war supplies, especially planes, and British-Airied troops to hold in check an anticipated German drive there this winter;

- 4—Increase as rapidly as possible the delivery of American-made bombers to Great Britain not only for the purpose of intensifying the R. A. F. raids on Germany, but to develop a reserve air force which will give the British strong superiority over the German Luftwaffe by the end of 1942;

- 5—Beat Germany to the draw by the occupation of all strategic outposts which the Nazis may threaten, such as Iran, Dakar, the Azores, the Cape Verde Islands and Turkey;

- 6—Great Britain to follow a major defensive strategy of holding out against Germany throughout next year, except for aerial attacks, and to prepare for a major British land offensive against the German army on the European continent in the spring of 1943.

It is recognized that this plan may be upset by any number of developments, such as a complete Russian collapse or a Japanese move in the Pacific, but it is understood to represent the basis on which the President and Churchill decided to chart their courses pending events which cannot definitely be foreseen.

While Churchill does not feel that the British army will be strong enough to tackle the German army alone in a decisive military battle on the European continent next year, he is said to

Given Party To Mark His Fourth Birthday

A birthday party was given to four-year-old Marvin Doyle Bell at his home 497 Pond street, Saturday afternoon. The room was decorated in pink and blue. Games were played by the little tots and prizes awarded to Miss Joan Fields.

Refreshments were served and a birthday cake lighted with candles occupied the center of the table.

Those present were: Eleanor Schell, Vera Schell, Joseph Bressia, Robert Foster, Joanna, Sylvia and Gloria Fields, Rose Marie Spinelli, Mary Anna Barton, George, Marvin, Lara Mae, and Pearl Bell, Mr. and Mrs. William Bell, Mrs. John Fields and Robert Burkett.

Marvin received many gifts and the children were given favors.

"HIRED GIRL" RAPIDLY BEING TRANSFORMED

It's Well That We're Living In The Modern Age of Gadgets

NOW DEFENSE WORKER

By Marie Manning
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Aug. 20.—(INS)—It's well that we're living in the Gadget Age, for the "hired girl," as she was called a generation ago, is rapidly becoming extinct. We recognize her now, better dressed and happier looking as the Defense Worker.

With conspicuous feminine tact, the Woman's Bureau of the Department of Labor has not referred to, or followed the evolution of the "hired girl" into the Government worker. But in the considerable volume of literature it has put out concerning women's employment, it has suggested training for these Defense jobs and told women the work is to be had for the asking.

From all accounts, the wails of housewives and the absence of applicants in employment agencies, the "hired girl" did not wait for Godspeed from the Woman's Bureau, Department of Labor. Over a year ago she began to pack her belongings and betake herself to factories, making machine tools, airplane engines and munitions. If she hadn't the necessary equipment to take such work, she prepared herself in Defense Vocational courses, and rejoiced in the industrial expansion which took her out of some other woman's kitchen.

And who can blame the "hired girl." She gets better wages, shorter hours, has all her evenings and Sundays off, and positively no feeling of inferiority in holding down a Government job.

This has resulted in a tremendous shake-up in our way of living. Apartments grow smaller and smaller, while electrical appliances of all kinds take the place of domestic help. Restaurants and laundries are jubilant over this state of affairs, for every night now is "maids' night out."

The servant problem is not of today or yesterday, but has grown increasingly difficult with the years. Regulated quotas have kept out foreign domestic labor, and the abundant Negro help from the South, like its white counterpart, has turned for shorter hours and better wages into other employment channels.

No wonder that the Government Experimental Farm in Maryland, which long ago sensed the plight of the housewife, began to turn its attention to such things as the streamlined turkey. The bird, weighing around seven or eight pounds, was easier for Madame to come to grips with, in a culinary way, than the old 12-pound-roasted by her erstwhile cook.

In the domestic upheaval, due to the flight of hired help, nothing stands out more conspicuously than the exodus from those overpowering structures which we used to call "mansions," and which required so much household help in days gone by. Most of them have been turned into clubs, hotels, restaurants, tourist resorts, orphanages and Old Ladies Homes.

In Washington, D. C., practically all the "mansions" have been deserted, their owners taking refuge in Georgetown, where they insist upon becoming doggedly quaint. The supply of genuine old Colonial houses having given out, smart folk buy up Chinese laundries, negro cabins, or corner groceries, and quaint 'em up.

Clay Littleton Dies In Wagner Hospital, Here

Clay Littleton died yesterday in the Wagner Hospital following a short illness. The deceased made his home in Bristol about 15 years ago but his home recently has been in Franklin Park, N. J. During his residence here Mr. Littleton conducted the Special Products Co., which was located in the Sixth Ward.

The deceased is survived by his wife, one daughter, Ruth Eleanor; two sons, Robert Allen and Clay, Jr. Two brothers and one sister also survive.

The funeral will be held Friday afternoon at two o'clock from the late residence of the deceased in Franklin Park. Friends may call Thursday evening. Burial will be in the Bristol Cemetery under the direction of Robert C. Reble. The Rev. George Moore, Franklin Park, will officiate.

Metal Cylinders Were Not Bombs

New York, Aug. 20.—The dozen twisted metal cylinders discovered on the still-smoldering deck of the freighter Panuco and at first thought to be bombs were found on police analysis today to be fumigating containers.

After the discovery of the cylinders early today, they were taken to the police laboratories. There after careful examination it was announced that they were harmless and not responsible for the $2,000,000 fire on the Brooklyn Pier Monday.

London, Aug. 20.—Marshal Budenny, Soviet leader in the south, left many thousands of his men practically stranded on the west bank of the Dnieper River, authoritative information reaching the British Government indicated today.

Nazis To Hop Over Dnieper

Moscow, Aug. 20.—Germany's armies are preparing to hop over the Dnieper River in the greatest air-borne offensive since the fall of Crete, it was believed today as the Red air force battled fleets of Nazi flying transports on the Ukraine front.

Several huge four-engine Junkers transports were shot down yesterday an official bulletin said. Each carried a light tank in addition to troops.

"Large numbers" of Junkers and Messerschmitts have been arriving in the German lines on the southwestern front, the Moscow communiqué said, adding "Soviet planes took off, attacked, and shot down three Messerschmitts and four Junkers."

German military officials in Berlin said the broad reaches of the Dnieper presented no great military difficulty. In London, British authorities said they expected parachutists to play an important part in the German attempt to force a crossing of the Dnieper.

As the Germans prepared for a fresh offensive in the south, Nazi troops menaced strongly-fortified Leningrad from a new direction—based on Novgorod, 100 miles to the southeast. Fighting also was revived suddenly on the south central front in the Gomel sector.

BARN DESTROYED BY BLAZE NEAR NEWTOWN

Structure and Contents Total Loss on "Hidden Valley Farm"

ORIGIN NOT DETERMINED

NEWTOWN, Aug. 20.—Fire yesterday totally destroyed a large barn on the farm of Lawrence J. Pearson, "Hidden Valley Farm" about a mile southwest of here.

The Newtown Fire Company was summoned, but the flames had gained too much headway and the structure burned to the ground as firemen tried to prevent the blaze from spreading to other buildings.

Origin of the fire was not immediately determined. Mrs. Pearson awakened at about 4 a. m. and noticed the glow from the flames. She aroused her husband and called the fire company but when the latter arrived the building was burning fiercely.

The barn was filled only last week with between 300 and 400 bales of hay, and a considerable quantity of alfalfa.

Bensalem Rotary Club Plans Future Meetings

Bensalem Rotary Club met last night at the Sutong Cafe, State Road, and planned for numerous events to be held later during the season.

There were three guests from the Morrisville club present, and John Hamor, vice-president of the Bensalem club, presided.

Penn Salmon discussed the program for future meetings and also for a joint picnic which is to be held September 6th, at which time members of the Bristol and Morrisville clubs will be invited to attend.

Next Tuesday the Bensalem club will visit the Badenhausen Boiler plant at Cornwells Heights, following the weekly meeting.

OIL STOVE ABLAZE

An oil stove at 1017 Elm street, shortly before noon today, caught fire. The firemen of the Bristol Consolidated Department were called. The blaze was small and the loss trifling.

Here and There in Bucks County Towns

Miss Jane Shelly, 14-year-old Sellersville girl who had been missing since July 25th, was found by police at one o'clock Sunday morning in a parked car at Franconia. The girl had been picked up while hitch-hiking by a Franconia man.

She wanted to go to Spring City but he wouldn't take her there. Not knowing what to do with her in the middle of the night when he got to his home, he left her in his car, calling Chief of Police Frank Hallman, Sellersville. Hallman took the girl to the House of Detention where she was held awaiting word from her father, Raymond Hunsicker, Kansas, to decide whether she shall be sent to a home permanently.

The adopted daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Russell Shelly, Sellersville, she has been wandering around in Allentown and vicinity since July 25th.

Fire, which is believed to have been caused by a bolt of lightning which struck the shop and smoldered, completely destroyed the butcher shop of William H. Elliott & Son at "Key-stone Farms," located on the Forest Grove-Wycombe highway, about 5.30 Sunday morning, causing a damage of at least $3,000.

Operated by two brothers, Robert and William, the butchering establishment has been conducted near Wycombe for 20 years at least. One of the sons, Robert, discovered the fire in the butcher shop when he noticed that the electric current on the premises "was off." This was due to the

RED CROSS DIRECTORS PLAN FOR ROLL CALL

Junior Roll Call To Be Held At Same Time As Senior Call

DIRECTORS IN SESSION

A special meeting of the Board of Directors of the Bristol Branch of American Red Cross was held Monday afternoon at headquarters, 120 Mill street. This year, the Junior Red Cross roll call is to be conducted at the same time as the Senior Red Cross call.

Mrs. Parke Wetherill having resigned the chairmanship, the chairman with the consent of the directors, appointed Mrs. Clarence Meyer to direct the work of the Juniors in this vicinity. Mrs. Wetherill reported providing five pairs of glasses, and milk being given to children, from the funds of the Juniors. Bristol school children should be happy to know that their gifts to Red Cross provided so much comfort to the children of this area. Five dollars of this fund will be given toward the expense of an artificial limb for a small child. This will prove a great blessing indeed and certainly shows the worthwhileness of the children's help.

First-aid classes will begin in the Fall with a chairman in charge of all activities. Industry will be contacted and classes arranged for those desiring to learn this much needed knowledge.

The necessity of blood donors was stressed in this epoch of our country's history, when so many boys are liable to disease and other phases of war time life. An appeal has been made from District No. 1, of which Bristol is a part for 150,000 volunteers. Arrangement can always be made by Red Cross, 120 Mill street. One of our directors recently visited Fort Dix and reports there are two hospitals with 1600 beds each.

Mrs. Horace N. Davis spoke of her defense work in the county in the distribution of cards having for their purpose the willingness of the signer to

THE GREAT GAME OF POLITICS

By FRANK R. KENT
(Distributed by McNaught Syndicate, Inc.)

A Man of Principle

Washington, Aug. 19.

OBSERVING the course of the Republicans in Congress at this session, it is impossible to escape the conclusion that, in the main, their primary concern has been—and still is—with the 1942 elections. They had an opportunity to play a fine role in this emergency. They have chosen an ignoble and unworthy one.

—O—

There has been no need for them to sacrifice their party independence, nor to accept everything that Mr. Roosevelt did as right because of the exigencies of defense. There has been plenty of opportunity for them to make a party record by pounding away at the weakness and incompetence of the defense organization. There has been every justification wires having been burned by the blaze which evidently smoldered for some time.

Mr. Elliott, who managed to save several barrels of spices, was unable to save any of the machinery because most of it was bolted to the floor. Firemen managed to save an ice machine.

Mrs. Elliott said that the fire is believed to have been caused by a bolt of lightning which may have struck the shop earlier in the evening when a severe electrical storm swept over the section about eight o'clock.

With members of Tyro Hall Grange as their guests, the Buckingham Farmers' Club held a picnic-supper at the home of Mr. and Mrs. William H. Yerkes, Jr., Saturday evening, when about 45 grangers and club members attended.

Following a supper, which was served on the lawn on tables beneath the trees and was interrupted by a shower, the men enjoyed games and the women took part in a social hour.

During a brief business session conducted by the farmers' club, with the president, George Wiley, presiding, it was decided to make a contribution toward the welfare of a recent Bucks county family, the victims of a disaster.

The contribution will be made to Mrs. A. C. LaRue, president of the Friendship Thimble Social, Doylestown, in behalf of the distressed parents and one child.

A letter from Dr. Harold B. Allen, president of the National Farm School, explaining the inauguration of a defense training course for the benefit of young farmers, was read by the club secretary and was discussed.

According to Dr. Allen, the courses will begin the middle of September.

With an attendance somewhat smaller than usual, due largely to other meetings, the quarterly meeting of the Upper Bucks Pomona Grange No. 50, was held at Spinnerstown with the Great Swamp Grange as host.

The program, in charge of the lecturer, Mrs. Raymond Steeley, was rendered during the afternoon. This program opened with the singing of the hymn, "The Captain is Calling," after which the home economics committee presented its regular feature of the program. This included a splendid talk on highway safety by Corporal Chester W. Reitz, of the Quakertown substation of the Pennsylvania Motor Police. Corporal Reitz gave a very practical talk on the use of highways. He also offered many suggestions for preventing the many accidents which are occurring. He reported a total of 271 highway accidents investigated by his office during 1940. In these accidents 271 persons were hurt, five fatally. Damage to automobiles involved in these accidents totaled $34,144, and damage to property was an additional $439.

MAN DIES IN CHAIR IN MILL STREET CAFE

John Joseph Thayer, 52, Dies of Heart Attack While Visiting Friends

WIFE, 4 SONS SURVIVE

A man died suddenly in a Mill street cafe about noon yesterday when John Joseph Thayer, 52, Maple avenue, Fergusonville, slumped over while sitting in a chair.

Thayer's death was due to heart disease from which he had been suffering and for which he had received medical attention at intervals for several years.

Deputy coroner, Dr. Charles P. Samsel, was called and viewed the body.

Thayer is survived by his wife, Mary, and four sons whose ages are from 11 to 19 years.

Previous to taking up his residence at Fergusonville Thayer and his family made their home in Parkland. He was a native of Boston and had resided in Fergusonville for about five years.

Thayer came into Bristol yesterday afternoon and after visiting the office of the Philadelphia Electric Co., went across the street to visit the Keller

Gives Shower in Honor Of Her Daughter

Mrs. Harry Chapin, Landreth Manor, gave a miscellaneous shower in honor of her daughter, Miss Virginia Chapin, last evening at the Chapin home. The guests were assembled when Miss Chapin arrived. The dining room table was attractive with a white table cloth and a wide strip of pink crepe paper through the center. In the center of the table was a bouquet of cut flowers in a silver container. Attached to the chandelier was a watering can made of pink crepe paper with white streamers attached which extended to the gifts arranged on the table. Favors were pink and silver baskets filled with mints.

Games were played and refreshments served.

The invited list included: Mrs. Margaret Stewart, Mrs. John Lewis, Mrs. Marvel Durham, Mrs. Leslie Satterthwaite, Mrs. Harry Chapin, Mrs. Allen Lebo, Mrs. M. Summers, Mrs. Benjamin Harman, Miss Mary Ann Duffy, Miss Jane Chapin, Miss Ruth Jeffries, Miss Mary Muffett, Bristol; Mrs. Benjamin Alhart, Mrs. George Sotting, Mrs. Raymond Tomlinson, Crofton; Mrs. Herbert Nyse, Mrs. Fred Bryner, Mrs. Herman Werner and Mrs. Arny Van Fraesen, Edgely; Mrs. Robert Downing, Edgely; Mrs. John Halderman, Sr., Mrs. Nathan Tiger, Mrs. Gilman Roberts, Miss Florence Roberts, Miss Coleen Roberts, Mrs. John Waldner and Mrs. Martha Murray, Fallsington; Mrs. Benjamin Lessig, Emille; Mrs. I. J. Hetherington, Baltimore; Mrs. Harry Burbank and daughter Dorothy, Mt. Holly, N. J.; Miss Violet Baker, Tullytown.

Mr. Norato who plays the alto saxophone, also doubles on the violin. He has formerly played in Joe Della's orchestra, and in New Brunswick, Trenton, Philadelphia and many other places.

Organized only a short time ago, the orchestra has already played six engagements, including two at the Dempsey hotel in Macon, one at the Shrine Temple, one at the Camp Wheeler "show," and two broadcasts for "Trainees in Tempo" over the air.

TEACHER SHORTAGE BECOMING ACUTE IN BUCKS COUNTY

Six Additional Vacancies Are Reported to County Superintendent's Office

ARE NOT AVAILABLE

Higher Salaries Are Being Paid in A Number of Districts

With notices of six additional vacancies reported to the Office of Superintendent of Bucks County public schools, on Tuesday, no less than 16 vacancies exist in the teaching forces of Bucks County at the present moment. No candidates are available for agriculture or industrial arts vacancies. Four school districts canvassed teachers agencies and teacher training institutions in five states without success.

The County Superintendent, Charles H. Boehm, has already indicated that he will issue a large number of temporary part time emergency certificates. Five school districts reported this week that they had too few desirable applicants for elementary vacancies. Three teacher colleges in reply to inquiries from the County Superintendent said that they had no elementary candidates available.

Since the shortage of teachers in certain fields became evident, the County Office has sent out several hundred letters to prospective candidates.

In many instances higher salaries are now being paid to beginners than to the experienced teachers in the same district. Two school districts have offered raises of several hundred dollars to keep some of their successful men teachers, but also without success. In the coming school year the general level of teacher salaries in Bucks County may be expected to be higher than it has ever been before.

One former supervising principal returned to teach Industrial Arts. Four school districts have been successful in securing married teachers to return for a year or two to serve in the present emergency. At least four other school districts will open school with substitute teachers.

Active in Orchestra Of Army Battalion

One of the most prominent members of the Sixth Battalion army orchestra at Camp Wheeler, Ga., is Frederick Norato, Dorrance street, who was inducted into the army on June 4th.

Organized about a month ago, by a small group of musicians who had been assigned to serve Company A as buglers, it soon became apparent that these men were capable of playing instruments other than the bugle and the orchestra was formed. The players are all from the fourth platoon of Company A and the majority of them claim Pennsylvania as their home state.

Mr. Norato who plays the alto saxophone, also doubles on the violin. He has formerly played in Joe Della's orchestra, and in New Brunswick, Trenton, Philadelphia and many other places.

Organized only a short time ago, the orchestra has already played six engagements, including two at the Dempsey hotel in Macon, one at the Shrine Temple, one at the Camp Wheeler "show," and two broadcasts for "Trainees in Tempo" over the air.

Miss Dorothy Curran Becomes
Bride of Mr. John Dugan

At a nuptial mass this morning, in St. Mark's Church at nine o'clock, Miss Dorothy Curran became the bride of Mr. John Dugan. Miss Curran is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Curran, 417 Jefferson avenue, and Mr. Dugan is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John Dugan, Otter street. The officiating priest was the Rev. E. Paul Baird.

The bride was attended by Miss Regina Peters, 566 Bath street, and Mr. Peter Harkins, Race street, was best man.

The bride wore a gown of white nylon chiffon, designed in an old-fashioned camisole effect ending in a train. Her slippers were of white satin and her veil of white tulle, knee length. She wore a string of pearls and white gauntlets of the same material as her gown. She carried a spray of white roses.

Miss Peters' gown was of white nylon chiffon designed with an old-fashioned camisole effect, it having a long full skirt with a wide ruffle at the bottom. Her head dress was a pussy cat bow ending in ear muffs of fresh flowers. She wore pearls and carried a spray of red phlox.

Miss Cecelia Kelly was the vocalist and rendered two selections, "Ave Maria" and "O Lord I Am Not Worthy." Miss Catherine Keating presided at the organ and played Lohengrin's Wedding March. A recessional was played by Miss Keating as the couple left the church.

Following the ceremony, a breakfast was served to the immediate members of the families of the contracting couples at the Keystone Hotel. Mr. and Mrs. Dugan left later during the day for the seashore. The bride travelled in a black dress trimmed in white, her accessories were black and she carried white gloves.

The bride is a graduate of the John W. Hallahan Girls Catholic High School, Philadelphia.

Mr. Dugan, who a year ago enlisted in the United States Air Corps and is stationed at Chanute Field, Ill., is on a fifteen-day furlough and will return to the service.

ON THE SCREENS

GRAND THEATRE

Borrowing Joan Blondell and Dick Powell from their real-life domestic chores for a merry, mad marital mix-up, Universal's "Model Wife," co-starring the two favorites, is scheduled to open today at the Grand Theatre.

Hit rating was accorded the picture at the preview given for the members of the press in the film capital.

In addition to the Blondell-Powell combination, the cast includes Lee Bowman, most recently in "Buck Privates," Charlie Ruggles, in a funny Rugglesian character; and Ruth Donnelly, Lucile Watson, Billy Gilbert and John Qualen.

The story, streamlined for comedy and romance, also presents an excellent opportunity for Miss Blondell to display a complete revue of the season's newest fashions in gowns and chapeaux. The lead roles are those of a wedded couple working in an ultra-smart gown shoppe, where marriage in the personnel is taboo.

Miss Blondell and Powell zealously guard their secret, saving every dime for an anticipated arrival from Mr. Stork. The situation becomes rather complicated when the fuss-budgety boss, played by Miss Watson, puts her incorrigible son, Bowman, to work and he falls in love with Powell's wife.

Leigh Jason, maker of such popular pictures as "Love on a Bet," "That Girl From Paris" and "The Bride Wore Red," was both producer and director of "Model Wife."

BRISTOL THEATRE

There is music, merriment, fun, laughter and romance in James Roosevelt's first Hollywood production, "Pot O' Gold," which stars James Stewart and Paulette Goddard and starts today at the Bristol Theatre.

Charles Winninger portrays the uncle, Jimmy Stewart is the nephew, Paulette Goddard is the comely boarding house lass and Horace Heidt and his band of radio luminaries provide the gay and light-hearted tunes.

RITZ THEATRE

Although Leo Gorcey plays many different kinds of picture parts, in one way, they never vary. In Monogram's "Pride of the Bowery," now at the Ritz Theatre, "tough guy" Gorcey is reformed in the last act. That's the way things have been going for Gorcey in nearly all of his recent pictures.

In several of his pictures, among them "Angels With Dirty Faces," and "They Made Me A Criminal," Leo got into really serious trouble with the law before the time for his reformation came. In "That Gang of Mine," Gorcey merely experiences a change of heart in the last scene. Then he lets someone else ride the horse he wants to ride in the big race.

Nothing makes a selective service man in camp happier than a letter from home or a home-town newspaper in the daily mail, army officials said recently after an extensive survey.

Next in order, the selective service youth likes sweets such as candy, cookies and chocolates—and chewing gum!

Officers say that on the march the gum helps keep the boys from drinking too much water and from dipping into their lunch ration.

Other offerings which bring a smile of pleasure to the enrollee include a general repertoire of utilities among which are books of stamps, flashlights, a towel now and then, toilet articles, and reading materials.

Officers say that if relatives want to be sure their addressee gets what's mailed to him, they should address the letter or package in this way: Name first, his company or battery second, his regiment third, and, lastly the name of the post office.

MORRISVILLE NOT TO HAVE LIGHTING SYSTEM ON FIELD

Cost of Installing Permanent Flood Light System Would Be Nearly $4,000

DRILLS TO START SEPT. 4

Work of Rounding Team Into Shape Will Get Under Way With School Opening

MORRISVILLE, Aug. 20—The Morrisville Public School has definitely decided to give up the idea of equipping the school football field with permanent flood lights. This announcement was made today by Paul Taylor, of the Board of Education.

A committee assisting Chairman Taylor, composed of Manohar R. Reiter, E. Leonard Caum, Floyd W. Kerr, Isaac Scott, J. Wilber Sauder and John W. Hoffman, looked into the possibility of installing permanent lights for night football, but the cost was approximately $4,000 to properly light the field. This was just double the amount which the school had anticipated spending, so the project will definitely not be set up this year.

Night football will be played, however, for three games have been scheduled under a temporary lighting system.

Football drills will start on September 4, Coach Hoffman said today, with the physician's examination of players taking place on September 3.

WILL MEET TO ORGANIZE BOWLING LEAGUES HERE

A meeting of the Bristol Bowling Association will be held at the Bristol Recreation Centre tomorrow evening at 8 o'clock for the purpose of organizing leagues for the 1941-42 season.

President Robinson would like to have as many teams represented as possible, in order that the leagues might swing into action during the week of Sept. 1st.

Manager O'Boyle has offered bowling to those who attend this meeting, the only charge being to compensate the pin boys.

All local industries, clubs, lodges, etc., are invited to send representatives to this meeting.

FIVE TITLES AT STAKE IN COMING BOUTS

By Jack Mahon

(I. N. S. Sports Writer)

NEW YORK, Aug. 20—(INS)—The Fall and Winter boxing season is about to get under way and a quick look at the schedule in promoter Mike Jacobs' 26th Century Sporting Club today shows that the sport swami has no less than five title fights carded on his first seven programs. That is about the best sock average handed the local citizens in recent seasons.

Here's the line-up starting August 26th with the Tami Mauriello-Gus Lesnevich light-heavyweight title scrap. This should be a corker for it brings together the hardest hitting youngster in the East and one of the veterans of the 175-pound division. The winner will be recognized by the N. Y. Commission as world's title holder.

On September 5th, Buddy Baer, who surprised so much against Joe Louis, tangles with huge Abe Simon, another guy who became famous by lasting 13 heats against the Brown Bomber. This is strictly a slug fest, arranged to provide a pay-day for the boys and their managers with the winner likely to get a Louis shot indoors later in the winter.

Then follows the Lou Nova-Louis, long awaited match. Nothing has to be told about that; it figures to be the closest fight Louis has had in two years and many believe Nova has the stamina and punch to end the glorious reign of Pal Joey. Louis' camp does not think so—but that will only make this little brawl the more interesting.

The third title fight, if it comes off as planned, will take place on October 3rd when Red Cochrane, the new welterweight champion, is scheduled to give Fritz Zivic a return crack at the crown. There is some doubt of this one being arranged because Cochrane may want some over-weight matches first.

The fourth title fight is scheduled for October 31st between Lew Jenkins and Sammy Angott. The Texan was recently beaten by Bob Montgomery of Philadelphia, while Angott, who hails from Louisville, was tripped up by Ray Robinson of New York, in Philadelphia, so there is a bit of a cloud on this championship affair.

On November 21st, Billy Soose will give Ken Overlin a return shot at the middleweight title he won from the ex-pro here last May. Overlin took the bait as he was promised despite the fact that his stable-mate, George Abrams, is given a better chance at becoming the next 160-pound king. Abrams recently won his third straight decision over Soose in as many tries.

The damage, as yet unestimated, is believed to be covered by insurance. Firemen managed to save several pieces of machinery in a cow shed attached to the barn. Poultry houses near the burning structure were threatened, but chickens and other fowl were believed to have been saved. Efforts of firemen were handicapped by a poor water supply as the Neshaing Creek from which they were pumping water was some distance away. Fortunately, however, the wind was blowing away from the farm house and other buildings, a factor which aided the fire-fighters in their battle to keep the blaze from spreading.

The barn was built about two years ago on the 350-acre property, which was formerly the Horace Stapler farm.

Strike Ties Up Big U. S. Gauge Plant Today

day and night shifts, operating Saturday and Sunday, and the payroll is said to exceed $10,000 a week.

Last night, at a meeting of the workers, their demands were for the present minimum of 39 cents an hour to be raised to 50 cents and a closed shop.

A meeting between the workers and representatives of the A. F. of L. started at eight o'clock this morning in the Odd Fellows Hall, Sellersville. There will be another meeting this evening in Perkase with C. I. O. officials to determine which organization the workers will join.

The U. S. Gauge Company was an open shop until two weeks ago when the molders organized and became part of the Local 42 of the International Molders and Foundry Workers Union of the A. F. of L.

The company is one of the largest industrial plants in the county and has a large quantity of defense orders to make airplane gauges and gauges for the U. S. Navy.

Although a picket line about a city block long has been formed, there is no sign of disorder. The picket line, which contains a few women, is being patrolled by company police and Sellersville police.

Samuel H. Spencer, mediator on the scene for the National Labor Relations Board, said the company recognized the mantle and offered a contract with a 60-cent-an-hour top scale.

James Dixon, union organizer, said this was declined by the union. He said that the average U. S. Gauge Co. worker was now receiving between 39 and 50 cent. an hour.

hope that the Nazis will be so weakened by the Russian campaign and the R. A. F. poundings that there may be a reasonable chance of launching a major British land offensive in 1943.

The British would like an American Expeditionary Force to participate in that offensive. Short of that, they would like American troops to take over the defense of the British Isles and relieve the bulk of the British army for offensive action on the continent.
